

A new show for young children

The Sticky Kids Show

by Anne Butler.

People

Anne Butler: Molly Muddle. Anne is a writer, performer and teacher. She has published two Molly Muddle picture books, twelve Sticky Kids CDs, and regularly makes author-visits in character as Molly Muddle to schools throughout Scotland and the north of England. Anne is a mother of three and lives in Edinburgh

Alan Windram: Old Macdonald. Alan has a wide range of theatrical and musical experience. In the last five years he has taken lead roles in musical theatre productions including 'Annie', 'Calamity Jane' and 'High Society'. His first involvement with children's theatre was working with Edinburgh's 'Fischy Music'. Alan has a diploma in Modern Music.

The Sticky Kids Show is our latest musical show for young children. The show uses songs from the hugely popular Sticky Kids range of children's music and centres around the character of Molly Muddle.

Everyone loves Molly Muddle - the human equivalent of a party popper. She is instantly recognisable in her colourful clothes and lively 'young at heart' personality. Her hilarious mishaps and misunderstandings strike a chord with children everywhere and her young audience of Sticky Kids just love joining in the actions and learning the songs.

When Molly Muddle gets together with her good friend Old Macdonald the fun really begins. Watch out for giant flying sausages, plant-watering antics and lots and lots of audience participation.

Strong visual characters, lively action songs, slapstick humour, repetition, rhyme, audience participation and an opportunity to be part of the action are all elements of the show that young Sticky Kids will love.

Anne Butler Founder of Sticky Kids says...

"Music, song and theatre have great benefits for the development of children in their early years. At Sticky Kids we believe the work we do helps develop children's language and listening skills, helps children express imaginative ideas, encourages an active healthy lifestyle and increases their self-confidence. Young children love music and humour and instinctively respond to rhythm and song. The Sticky Kids Show is accessible to the very young and to children with special educational needs".

Sticky Kids

Sticky Kids is now the UK's market leader in music and movement CDs for children under six. Our best selling product is our range of fun and fitness CDs but close behind are our CDs about feelings and friendships, counting, alphabet and songs from around the world. Sticky Kids is committed to high quality musical resources for using in schools and at home. The music is available by mail order or from our website: www.stickykids.net
